A TOAST TO SPRINGFIELD

By Lester E. Herrick

There's a Springfield in Ohio and there's one in Illinois,
There's another in Kentucky where the blue grass waves in joy;
Even Hoosier Indiana claims a Springfield as her own,
While Missouri boasts her Springfield and is waiting to be shown.

There's a Springfield in Nebraska, and Wisconsin also counts,
While the Springfield, Colorado, rears its head among the mounts,
Oregon and South Dakota do not have to seek in vain,
Washington on the Pacific has its Springfield; so has Maine.

In New Jersey and New Hampshire, in Vermont and Tennessee,
Minnesota, West Virginia, there are Springfields, three and three,
Way down south in Alabama, Georgia, Florida, as well,
Still we find the name of Springfield, still we feel its mystic spell.

But when people mention Springfield, none of these come to mind;
There's another better Springfield than the others all combined,—
Yes, a bigger, grander Springfield which in all ways can surpass
The score of other Springfields—Here's a health to Springfield, Mass.
